

BOUNDLESS

By Allan James

Doors to Somewhere

Sometimes we don't understand the heartaches in our minds,
Lasting love, a friend forever, so hard to find,

Stepping back I catch my breath and turn around,
I see your smiling face; you never let me down, never let you down,

*We are designers of our own destiny,
Our heart is the lens my friend and it helps us see,
The story goes this way and I know you'll agree,
This boundless life we have ... we've got to be free....*

Holding back like a dam to the river flow,
I feel I could burst at any time I just don't know,
Life is chance, circumstance, a possibility,
Ever changing, rearranging, where am I supposed to be?

Stepping back I catch my breath and hold my ground,
I'll fight for you my friend and never let you down, never let you down,

Chorus 2 ....

On a point directionless we stand no time to wait,
Pushing pulling all our sides surrounded by our fate,
With hopeful eyes we realize we know we're getting close,
To feel the love, the fascination of all the things we chose,

Stepping back I catch my breath and hear a sound,
A familiar voice is calling, the love that I have found, the love I have found,
