

OPEN CHANCE

By Allan James

Doors to Somewhere

When I look back in time the picture so clear,
We had a chance for love oh what did we fear?
We shared times together through shadows and lights,
Soft sounds of your breath deep in the night...

*The river of life is flowing,
We stand on the banks not knowing,
That time slips away in silence,
And we should have taken an open chance for love...*

Now I stand at your door,
I look in your eyes,
What are we waiting for?
The years have gone by,
I put my hand in yours,
Come with me now,
We have a chance for love,
We'll make it somehow...

*The river of life is flowing,
We stand on the banks not knowing,
That time slips away in silence,
And we should have taken an open chance for love...*

*River of life is flowing,
We stand on the banks not knowing,
That time slips away in silence,
And we should have taken an open chance...
And we should have taken an open chance...
And we should have taken an open chance... for love...*
