

SAVING ANGELS

By Allan James

Doors to Somewhere

In the distant skies I turned back once,
Saw you're smiling eyes,
Moments tattered, years are shattered,
And now I realize...

In a lifetime you came just once
Sharing heart and mind,
I stood staring wrapped in silence,
The words so hard to find...

Saving Angels... Angels.... Saving Angels... Angels....

Now the clouds have passed it all comes clear, but seems so far away,
The raging thunder, and cries from under, the storms that came our way...

Now I've moved on to a whole new world,
The lights beyond the skies,
The darkness won't crash on my memories,
Tears fill up my eyes...

Saving Angels... Angels.... Saving Angels... Angels....

Pierce the darkness that covers the distance,
I want you to love me...
Stand beside me... let me hold you,
All I want to do is love you...
